HARDING FINDS PANAMA CANAL NEEDS BIG GUNS

Armament Inadequate, as Revealed by Trip of President-Elect.

AT WARSHIPS' MERCY

Dreadnoughts Could Stand Off Balboa and Wreck Miraflores Locks.

FRELINGHUYSEN STIRRED

Plan to Lift Tolls From U. S. Shipping Also Gets Impetus.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. BALBOA, C. Z., Nov. 24.—Senator Harding's Canal Zone visit strongly convinces him that the Atlantic-Pacific link is America's great defensive asset and must have bigger guns and more of them.

Traversing the Canal to-day aboard the mine layer Graham, Senator Harding and Senator Frelinghuysen of the Military Affairs Committee studied the plan of the Canal fortifications and agreed that weak spots exist and must be repaired. For example, there is only one 16 inch gun on the Atlantic side, while the defence guns of the Pacific gate are only 14 inch.

Senator Frelinghuysen was intensely interested and after going over the situation with the military and naval officers here purposes to make an immediate request for an appropriation to cover the cost of making the canal actually and not merely theoretically impregnable. This will cost millions, but it is imperative, with Far Eastern relations in their present disturbed state.

Senator Frelinghuysen was told by the military and naval chiefs that an enemy warship ultra-modern armed could stand off Balboa out of range of the forts and smash to pieces the Miraflores locks, only five miles from the Pacific entrance of the canal.

Mr. Harding learned that the antiquated 14-inch guns are hopelessly inadequate to hold modern superdreadnoughts and battle cruisers out of range and he is therefore vividly interested in Mr. Frelinghuysen's plans.

There will be a conference here this week on the subject. The feeling is that Congress has not been informed fully or accurately of the canal's weakness and must be awakened to the actual situation. Mr. Harding's visit also strengthens his determination to lift the tolls burden from American shipping.

By the Associated Press.

BALBOA, C. Z., Nov. 24.—President-elect Harding came through the Panama Canal from Cristobal to the Pacific coast to-day, and, crossing into the Republic of Panama, exchanged with President Porras personal felicitations. Mr. Harding also expressed a warm hope for better relations between the United States and Panama.

Although declaring he acted purely as a private citizen in making an informal call during his vacation visit to the Canal Zone, the President-elect conveyed in an earnest manner to the Panamanian Executive his desire to see Panama established firmly in the affection of southern neighbors. Later President Porras came across the boundary and on American territory told Mr. Harding that he warmly reciprocated these desires.

The trip through the canal was in the nature of an inspection of the operation of the waterway, in which Mr. Harding has shown unusual interest. He asked many questions about the practical problem of the canal management and during the stop at the Gatun Lock examined the details of its operation minutely.

The journey across the isthmus was made on the mine layer Graham, which was furnished by the Zone authorities. The President-elect was accompanied by Gov. Harding of the Canal Zone, Gen. Babbitt, Admiral Johnson, William J. Price, the U. S. Minister to Panama, and Senator Affairs, the Panamanian Foreign Minister. The trip took up most of the day. Mr. Harding left the ship at the Pedro Miguel Lock and completed the crossing of the isthmus on a special train.

The Panama officials made a formal affair out of Mr. Harding's visit to Panama City. A platoon of police was assigned to escort him to the Palace, where President Porras received him in State. The return call of the Panamanian President was made to Mr. Harding at the American Legation. Later Mr. Harding held an informal public reception there.

To-night the President-elect took dinner privately at the home of Gov. Harding in Balboa. He is stopping at the hotel in Ancon, where he will remain until Friday. He will spend Thanksgiving quietly with a game of golf in the afternoon. In the evening he will be the guest of President Porras at dinner in Panama City.

Friday Mr. Harding will return to Cristobal and will take his ship there Sunday for Norfolk.

The dispatch states that the object of Senator McCormick's trip to Europe was discussed by delegates to the Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva yesterday.

In an interview Monday night Senator McCormick denied his trip abroad was connected with America's future foreign relations. He said he was seeking a long rest.
